

Agreement on cooperation between
Department of Economics University of Foggia (Italy)

and

Faculty of Economics and Social Sciences of Poznan University of Life Sciences (Poland)

Each party to the Agreement shall promote cooperation on teaching and scientific research, and for this purpose the parties shall intend to implement the exchange of university teachers and students, as well as the exchange of other persons involved in these activities. The exchange shall be beneficial to both parties. The cooperation shall include:

I. With regard to the education of students:

- exchange of experience on education, with special emphasis placed on curricula for particular courses and Departments, organisation of the teaching process,
- exchange of student training programmes allowing a better understanding of the scope of work carried out in relation to the field of study,
- exchange of educational materials.

II. In terms of scientific cooperation:

- exchange of scientific literature,
- organising collaborative scientific workshops and conferences,
- collaborative scientific publications issued by the publishing houses of both Universities,
- participation of teams from both Universities in the implementation process of collaborative research projects,
- inviting university employees and PhD students to participate in conferences organised by bodies of the cooperating Universities. Terms and conditions shall be agreed on by the cooperating bodies.

III. It is expected that the most important aspects of cooperation shall be specified every two years by cooperating partner bodies in writing, the conditions of student training programmes participation in particular.

IV. Financing of the cooperation under this Agreement is jointly agreed on by the parties to the Agreement and stated in writing.

V. Final provisions:

1. This Agreement shall be valid for a period of four years commencing from the document signature date.
2. The Agreement may be extended for a period of another four years if none of the parties within a period of six months before the expiry of the Agreement shall not notify in writing of the willingness to terminate the cooperation.
3. Any changes to the Agreement shall be possible only in the form of written arrangements between both parties, which shall not be introduced later than six months before the planned date of the undertaking.
4. The cooperation of the university bodies is an integral part of this Agreement. The correspondence language shall be English.

This Agreement is drawn up in two copies in the English language, all copies are binding.

The parties, by the dully authorised representatives, have caused this Agreement to be executed as of the date written below.

Faculty of Economics and Social Sciences of Poznan University of Life Sciences

Department of Economics
University of Foggia

By: Prof. dr hab. Walenty Poczta
Dean

By: Prof. Dr. Pierpaolo Limone
Dean

Poznan,

Foggia,